Qualification Criteria for ARC & NAAC

- At the December 2021 NRHA Board of Directors meeting, the Board announced the qualification criteria for the 2022 NAAC and Affiliate Regional Championships will be identical to 2021.
- The first step to earning a spot in Oklahoma City is to compete at one of the 10 ARCs held across North America in late fall. To do so, a rider must be an NRHA member and a member of an NRHA affiliate. Any exhibitor who receives a score higher than a zero at an ARC will be able to enter that class, on that specific horse, at the NAAC in Oklahoma City.
- As in 2021, riders will be allowed to participate in multiple ARCs with one exception; if they win a class, they cannot compete on the same horse in the same class at another ARC.
- You can read more about it here: NRHA Board Approves Qualification Criteria for ARC and Adequan® NAAC

Showing With Incorrect Exhibitor Number

- All horses must display the correct exhibitor number that is assigned to that specific horse. Failure to display the number, or displaying the wrong exhibitor number, will result in the rider receiving a fine per offense to be collected by show management. The show management keeps this fine and does not send it to NRHA.
- When the judge determines that either the incorrect number is displayed or that no number is displayed, the scribe should note this fact on the score sheet and report the infraction to the Show Representative or Show Steward. The Show Representative/Steward should then note the incident on their Show Report.

NRHA Fees Policy

- Please remember you can find the list of all current NRHA fees on the NRHA website under resources and then forms and documents, labeled 2022 Fees Policy. If you are unsure about the cost of something, then please reference this form.
